

The Local Choice Pharmacy Flu Shot Program Q&A

Q1. Why should I get a flu shot?

A1. Getting a flu shot each year is extremely important both to your health and to prevent the spread of influenza to others.

Q2. Where can I get a free flu shot?

A2. If you are enrolled in a TLC health plan:

- Key Advantage or TLC HDHP members may receive a free flu shot at a local participating pharmacy. Be sure to call the pharmacy and double check that it participates with the TLC/Commonwealth of Virginia's flu shot program. See the list of participating pharmacies on this site. An appointment may be required.
- Kaiser Permanente HMO members may get shots at Kaiser medical centers.

Q3. Can I get a flu shot at a retail health clinic, such as a Minute Clinic?

A3. Flu shots will be covered at retail health clinics for Key Advantage and TLC HDHP members. Drug store retail clinics are covered under the medical benefit, not pharmacy. The claim must be submitted to Anthem. Flu shots are covered at 100 percent, but members may be responsible for additional costs (i.e. office visit copayment).

Q4. What happens if I get a flu shot at a pharmacy that does not participate in the program?

A4. If you get a flu shot at a non-participating pharmacy, you will have to file a paper claim and may be required to pay the difference between Anthem's allowable charge and the pharmacy charge for the flu shot.

Q5. When can I get a flu shot?

A5. You can get a flu shot as soon as participating pharmacies and doctors' offices have vaccine available.

Q6. Can I still get a flu shot at my doctor's office?

A6. Key Advantage and COVA TLC will pay 100 percent for flu shots administered at physicians' offices. However, your doctor may charge a copayment for the visit which will not be reimbursed.

Q7. Are there special requirements to get a free flu shot?

A7. You should present a photo ID and a plan ID card at the pharmacy counter so that the pharmacist can determine your eligibility and coverage.

Q8. Does a pharmacist working for the participating drug store have to administer the flu shots?

A8. Be sure to ask whether the flu shot clinics are being done by the pharmacy or a third party vendor. To be covered at no cost to you, a flu shot must be administered through the pharmacy and processed online under the Anthem pharmacy benefit. Be sure to check before getting the flu shot to be sure that the pharmacy will not charge you. If the pharmacy will not process your flu shot for free, ask the pharmacist to call the pharmacist helpline on the back of your ID card.

Q9. Are the pharmacies on the list offering flu shots to the general public or just to those with a TLC pharmacy benefit?

A9. These pharmacies are offering flu shots to the general public and to TLC and state plan members. Anthem, through the Express Scripts pharmacy network, has special contracts with retail pharmacies to offer flu shots through the TLC/Commonwealth of Virginia plans' prescription drug programs.

Q10. Do children need a prescription to receive a flu shot?

A10. Children under 18 may need a prescription to get a flu shot at a pharmacy. However, depending on the pharmacy, the pharmacist can call the doctor for a prescription. Parents should call ahead to find out if the pharmacy will dispense a flu shot to children and to inquire if the pharmacy has an age limit.

Q11. Who can receive a high dose flu shot?

A11. Any Key Advantage or TLC HDHP member can receive a high dose flu shot. It is recommended for diabetics and others with certain chronic conditions.
